

MASTER IN FOOD SAFETY

12TH EDITION

2019|2021

Applications for the admission to the Master in Food Safety (12th Edition) will take place in two periods: from the 2nd of May to the 15th of July of 2019 and from the 1st of August to the 6th of September of 2019.

The Master Science program provides a specialized scientific training, allowing for an up to date and efficient professional intervention capability. The Master in Food Safety will fit to practice professional activity in the areas of food production, processing, preservation and distribution, with a special emphasis in the food safety area.

1. Requirements:

The provisions of this notice apply to:

- 1.1. The holders of a bachelor/master science degree, or legal equivalent, in the areas of Veterinary, Agricultural, Biological or Engineering sciences;
- 1.2. The professionals of Food Production, Processing, Preservation, Distribution and Trading sectors with an academic, scientific or professional curriculum, which demonstrates the ability to undertake the study program.

2. Application Process information

The application is online (FénixEdu), on the menu <Study> <Master> <Master in Food Safety> of the Faculty web page, with the submission of the following documents:

- 2.1. Qualification Certificate;
- 2.2. Identification document (Citizen Card, Identification Card, Passport, Residence title/permit);
- 2.3. Tax identification document;

3. Application fee

The payment of the application fee of 100 €, through the MB network – service payments, should be carried out using the payment reference generated by the online application platform.

4. Vacancies: The number of vacancies assigned for the 2019/2021 Edition ranges between 15 (minimum) and 40 (maximum).

5. Results publication:

The results of the application will be announced in a list published in the Faculty's web page in <Study> <Master> <Master in Food Safety>.

6. Additional information:

The candidates may obtain further information in the Academic Services of the Faculty, according to the working schedule. Further information will be provided according to the defined calendar, published in the web page of the Faculty (www.fmv.ulisboa.pt/noticias)

Lisboa, 18th February 2019

The President of the Faculty of Veterinary Medicine

Professor Rui Manuel de Vasconcelos e Horta Caldeira
Full Professor